

STYLE SHEET AND GUIDE TO AUTHORS

Having a transdisciplinary view related to problems of philosophy and history of science and technology, Noema is an annual peer-reviewed journal of the Romanian Academy

The topic of submitted papers must be consistent with the purposes of the Romanian Academy Committee of History and Philosophy of Science and Technique (Comitetul Român de Istorie și Filosofie a Științei și Tehnicii – CRIFST).

The use of technical terms should be made explicit. Where the technical details cannot be avoided, they will be included in the annexes, leaving the text accessible to the non-specialist reader. However, in those cases in which formalization is essential, it may be included in the text but must be accompanied, during the exposure, by clear interpretations and examples.

General Points

Papers will be presented in Romanian or English/French. They will be edited with MS Word '97 version at least, A5, in single spacing, font "Times New Roman" 10. Diacritics are obligatory in Romanian texts. 150 words Abstract as well as Keywords, in English, and also the affiliation and current position of the author (possibly his last published book) should accompany each submission. Papers will not exceed 6000 words (including annexes and bibliography). Only as an exception, a longer work could be allowed.

Text

Capitals should be used sparingly. Use italics for non-naturalized words of foreign origin. Thus: Weltanschauung. Omit full stops from common abbreviations and acronyms: MP, USA.

References

1. At the end of the paper a list of References should be added, according to the alphabetical order of authors' last name.

2. It is not allowed to insert in the final list of References works that were not quoted or referred to within the paper.

3. Endnotes are not allowed.

4. Footnotes may be used for both comments and source references.

5. Indicating a bibliographic source, in text, footnote, and at the end of paper: like as appears in the following.

(a) References to books

Jantsch, Erich, The Self-Organizing Universe, Oxford and New York, Pergamon, 1980.

(b) References to articles

Black, Anthony, 'The juristic origins of social contract theory', History of Political Thought, 16 (4), 1993, pp. 157–76.

(c) References to other sources

(c1) Book with an editor (s): Noe, A. & Thompson E. (eds.), Vision and Mind, Cambridge, MIT Press, 2002.

(c2) Chapter in a book: Grice, H.P., 'Some remarks about the senses', in Noe, A. & Thompson, E. (eds.), Vision and Mind, Cambridge, MIT Press, 2002.

(c3) Conference papers: Jenkins, H., A catch-22: Psi and explanation, The Parapsychological Association 51st Annual Convention – Conference Proceedings, Winchester, 2008, pp 97-110.

(c4) Internet resource: Young, C. (2001) English Heritage Position Statement on the Valletta Convention, [Online], <http://www.archaeol.freeuk.com/EHPositionStatement.htm> [24 Aug 2001] (where the final date is the date the webpage was accessed).

(c5) Newspaper articles: Cumming, F., Tax-free savings push, Sunday Mail, 4 April 1999, pp. 1–2.

(c6) Text to be published: Baltg, C. Molecular Computes, to be published.

Sponsorship. Relations with authors

Sponsorship has in view only the printed publication. The authors are not paid. An author, once published, must approve his/her use as reviewer in the census database.

Each submission will be sent electronically to gmnoema@yahoo.com.